THE MAN ON HORSEBACK GALLOPS IN!

THE GREATEST LANDSLIDE IN THE HISTORY OF PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS!

President Roosevelt Wins by a Greater Plurality Than Was Ever Cast For a Nominee Every State That Stood Among The Doubtfuls Carried by Republicans.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATIC BY SMALL MAJORITY

Hardly had the sun gone down that given for McKinley in 1900, Tuesday when the result in New York began to appear. Bulletin was astounding even to the most followed bulletin, each showing sanguine Republican managers, large Republican gains and by 7 o'clock it was evident the great empire state had given the Republican candidate a majority beyond the pretensions of the party managers.

So convincing was the story of the bulletin at half past seven that August Belmont, at Democratic headquarters conceded Roosevelt's election by an overwhelming majority and half an hour later the Democratic leaders who had managed the campaign freely admitted that the Republicans had carried every doubtful state.

There was no disposition to hope against hope. As state after state sent in its Republican majority and the wires told the tale of the ballots brought even from those commonwealths upon which they had based their figures of Democratic success reports of unprecedented Republican majorities they frankly conceded their defeat and offered no explanation.

Soon after Belmont's admission Parker acknowledged the situation by telegraphing Roosevelt his congratulations.

The perfect weather conditions which prevailed over practically the entire country, brought out a vote which experienced politicians predict will be a record breaker and in this increase of ballots the Republicans gained more than their share.

It is not only a year of phenomenal votes but of phenomenal majorities as well.

Beginning with the state of New York, which gives a Republican plurality of approximately 186,000 the rate runs practically through out the country, Kentucky alone showing a Democratic gain. Indiana is credited with at least 75,000 plurality, Iowa 110,000. Pennsylvania heads the list as the banner Republican state with the magnificent plurality of 300,000.

Even in the Southern states the vote has been light, Georgia's Democratic majority being only between 40,000 and 50,000. Texas will probably not exceed 100,000. No state which was carried by Bryan four years ago, is Republican and results are that Montana, Idaho and Colorado, also Democratic in 1900, have gone back into the Republican column. Delaware is estimated at about 30,000 Republican. Massachusetts about 90,000 and Connecticut in which the more sanguine of the Democratic leaders claimed to have had hopes, about 32,000 Republican.

While on the national ticket the Democrats have suffered a crushing defeat they have retrieved themselves on some state tickets. They have reversed the national vote by electing governors in Massachusetts, Minnesota and probably in Colorado.

The Republican national ticket has been elected by a vote in the electoral college that will exceed

As a dramatic climax to the sensational majority given him came Roosevelt's formal announcement that he would not be a candidate for reelection, lending the only exciting aspect to an election that might otherwise be so one-sided that it was impossible for even the voters to attain that degree of enthusiasm that usually marks the occasion.

Late in the night came an announcement from Melvin G. Palmer, manager of the campaign for Thomas E. Watson, candidate of the people's party, that as a result of the overwhelming Democratic defeat, steps would be taken to form a new party. To this end,

The Republican national ticket has been elected by a vote in the electoral college that will exceed

The official returns in this county, these points and viewing the results for Tuesday's election show that it is easily seen that the Republicans have gained ground.

The Prohibition, Populist and Socialist Labor tickets all received votes in this county. Schwab, the Prohibition candidate for president, received 80 votes, and Richey, who ran for congress on the same ticket, received 82 votes. Watson, Populist candidate for president, received 17 votes and Lackey, for congress, received 18. Only two votes were cast for the Socialist Labor ticket.

The Dycusburg city election resulted as follows:

- For Police Judge—J. A. Graves, 20; T. J. Yeats, 4.
- For Marshal—R. H. Milroy, 13;
- Thos. Mitchell, 9.

For town trustees the five receiving the largest vote were certified as follows: J. B. Waddington, 16; J. R. Wells, 12; E. J. Brown, 16; E. M. Dalton, 21; T. L. Phillips, 16.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR SHERIFF

DUVALL—We are authorized to announce Alonzo J. Duvall a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Crittenden county, subject to the action of the Republican party. Election 1905.

NOW, will you be good?

Be sure you are right before you tackle Teddy.

Parker's plea of political purity pattered out.

And Uncle Gassaway saw a great light. Oh, those dollars!

And now that the smoke of battle has cleared away, in the light of common sense and reason it is very easy for the layman to see the trend of political events.

We suppose, of course, that Tommie Taggart, August Belmont, W. F. Sheehan and dear old Uncle Gassaway will claim that the Republicans bought the election with the dollars of the wicked trusts.

There is a spirit of fair play in this country of ours. It pervades all classes of society. In his desperate search for an issue Judge Parker was lead to make charges which he could not sustain, and did not sustain.

A recent news item heads off with "Pauline Astor to be Married Saturday, October 29th, in London to Captain Spender Clay." If the high rolling Captain keeps up his record he will soon be dubbed "Captain Spender Dough."

The mock purity of Judge Parker and his charges against President Roosevelt were certainly the two most potent factors in his overwhelming defeat. The accusation of Parker against Roosevelt, without any proof to back it up, was the greatest blunder of the campaign.

It goes without saying that there will never be another candidate for the high office of president, be he Democrat or Republican, that will have the hardihood to slander the occupant of the white house. This election has proved conclusively that it will not work. The sober sense of this country will not stand for it.

President Roosevelt's defiance, issued last week to candidate Parker and all who were in the way, is conceded to be the most magnificent and splendid document ever issued by any president. It fairly burns with fire, and withered the opposite, like a Kansas hot wind on small potatoes. It is short, concise and to the point—spades are called spades, and like a two-edged sword, its execution at the polls was terrible.

While THE RECORD had been in existence only seventeen weeks at the time of this election yet we believe that to it in a great measure is due the Republican gains that were made Tuesday in this county. Nothing of the sensational sort appeared in its columns during the campaign, and we made no statements except those that were based on facts. Our illustrations and conclusions were drawn from history as well known to our readers as ourselves.

when the almost unanimous results to the contrary so conspicuous all over the country are considered. In this, his home county, he runs ahead of the Democratic ticket, while his opponent, Hon. J. C. Speight, runs behind the Repuplican ticket. While the results of his race in this county may not be all he might have hoped for, yet viewing the matter from every standpoint, we feel sure that he could not have cause to and will not represent Crittenden county best of all in congress.

With another paper in old Crittenden of the same stripe and caliber as the Crittenden Press, the Republican majority in this county could not be much less than 1,000. That grand old war ship seems to be advancing backward with prodigious strides. It might be proper to remark in passing that the old pilot is no longer at the wheel, and the frantic plunges and deep dives and erstwhile heavy lounching at times of the now ponderous ship of Democracy in this good county of Crittenden attest that fact in a marked degree. Not to refer to unpleasant things, except in a pleasant way, we note that one of the hardest rubs that the old vessel has ever received since the new regime was a certain Henderson-Gordon whirlpool at the city of Dyersburg not many moons ago. But let that pass. Our memory of that product of Marion, Col. R. C. Walker, is ever green. THE RECORD tips its hat.

OUR CONGRESSMAN

HON. OLLIE M. JAMES.

Who said Bryan's prophecies were never correct?

Who said Bob Haynes was a poor guesser? Ask Johnson Crider.

The "staid and dignified" Judge took his usual bath in Salt River yesterday, instead of the Hudson, the saline water was more stimulating.

Bob Gregory still bears the pleasant look he put on Tuesday evening. Lige Franklin was very happy.

There stands "Old" Pennsylvania with only 400,000 majority for Roosevelt.

There will be no more babies named Alton H.

Parkers principal asset was a "gold telegram" eight years over due.

"I am going back to French Lick." T. TAGGART.

Hurah Woodson is a great prophet.

The Republican majorities are irrevocably fixed.

Harry Watkins' smile was immense Tuesday night.

Rumor has it, that W. H. Yandell is well pleased with the result of the election.

Clem Nunn says he will continue to mine zinc.

Inc. Blud did not say a word.

There was never anything like it. The voters went and did it.

Teddy will retain his "bagstick."

Grandpa Davis did not run ahead of Parker in West Virginia, as was predicted by a certain young man in Marion.

ELECTION ECHOES.

I positively will not ask for a second term. A. H. P.

The Republican majorities got so heavy Tuesday night that Postal wires gave down under the burden and had to rest for an hour. The Western Union could not stand the weight of Parker's telegram.

It happened this way; the people are "safe and sane."

If Gen. Miles had made a few more speeches in Indiana it would have been unanimous. The old flag is still "put" and the country is still "pat."

The poor Philippines will continue to make progress under a Republican administration.

Our majority is approximately 16 to 1.

W. L. Douglas should make a shoe called the "Governor."

The Cortelyou "scandal" helped to do it.

There is another "tall sycamore" on the Wabash.

Woodson said all the Republican leaders in Ohio were dead. The voters are very much alive. Roosevelt's majority only 154,000.

The Kansas farmer knows a good thing when he sees it. Republican majority 100,000.

Indiana is "safe and sane."

Even Congressman Cowherd, of Missouri, was caught under the avalanche of Republican votes.

Ten cents for a rooster that is game enough to crow!

The people have forgot the cable bug snake this week, they only talk of Teddy's majorities.

Tom Johnson staid in town very late Tuesday but he did not get one ray of hope.

Judge Rochester has not been seen since the election.

The country has gone to the "how wows" some more.

Parker is seen in the habit of sending telegrams, that he sent Roosevelt one as soon as he heard that Escoups had gone Republican.

Who will be the next "Moses?" They are still in the wilderness.

I wish you could have seen Frank Conger.

What's the matter with Illinois? Their election turned out to be a Republican ratification—225,000.

Defeat will not take the smile off Tom Cochran's face, it's there to stay, and Tom is the same genial gentleman he was before it happened.

The platform is a cowardly straddle. The campaign will begin with a foot race and end in a riot.

W. J. BRYAN.

SIXTY-FIVE PER CENT. GALENA

Valuable Ore Developed at the Ada Florence Mine.

The Ada Florence mines, under the management of Superintendent J. M. Persons of the Louisville-Marion Mining Co., has been producing a very fine specimen of galena. Mr. Miller, of Louisville, a member of this company, was here a few days ago, and upon returning home took a few samples of the ore. He had the ore assayed and notified Mr. Whitehouse, secretary of the company, who resides here, that it assayed 65 per cent galena and 10 per cent of spar.

Mr. A. H. Noe, of the Big Four Mining Company, is not interested in the Ada Florence as reported by our Louisvillian correspondent last week.

An explosion of some fifty gallons of gasoline at the Crittenden Coal Company's mines near here on last Friday evening came near ending the lives of the fifteen men on the inside. It seems that Mr. Strickland, one of the civil engineers, and Mr. Kit Barnaby, the foreman of the works, had gone in to investigate a leakage in the tank that supplied the gasoline engine and, with their lamps on, were trying to find the leak, when Mr. Barnaby, not thinking, let his lamp come in contact with the dripping gasoline, setting it off. Fortunately the train got away in the hurry to save the lives of the fifteen men not dreaming of danger, without getting but slight burns. All the men were warned, and got out safe.

Henry Artman and Noah Ford Just as the determined foreman started after them Artman came rushing through the flames, and Barnaby, at the risk of his life, went in search of Ford, finding him in his room unconscious, and was dragged to the mouth by the brave foreman. Dr. J. H. Winston was at once called, and some two hours later brought him around all right.

Every man at the mines realized he had faced death, and but barely escaped it. The fire was a hot one the few hours it lasted, and did considerable damage to the roof, timbers and engine. A great quantity of slate fell on account of the heat. But while all hands had a close call, all were ready for work Monday—Sturgis Correspondent to Morgantown Sun.

Mr. H. H. Sayer, of Marion, superintendent of the Crittenden Coal Co., just above us, was at his plant Monday. Mr. Sayer is an elegant gentleman and a man rated high as a mine engineer in the greatest coal fields of Pennsylvania. We are truly glad to see him at the head of these new and prosperous mines, and wish him the best luck imaginable—Sturgis Correspondent to Morgantown.

At Carrsville, the Ohio Valley Mining Company is driving ahead with their shaft on the Wright place. At a depth of 150 feet they have begun the drift that will likely lead them to a very fine bed of sulphide of zinc. This ore has predominated all the while, and the manner of operation is based on the ideas of expert mining men.

RANDOM NOTES OF INTEREST

CURIOUS CUSTOMS AND INSTRUCTIVE INFORMATION.

The Bolivian and Peruvian newspapers announce that, after a search extending over five centuries, the great buried treasure of the Incas, upon which countless romances have been founded, has been discovered buried in Bolivia. The treasure, which is valued at $20,000,000 was discovered by a party of British and American engineers at Chuyaltaya. The natives are in a state of great excitement, for they believe that there is treasure to the value of $28,000,000 still to be discovered.

Strange as it may seem, a lot of money is made out of policemen's cast-off uniforms. Quantities are bought by African traders and exported to various parts of the "Dark Continent," where they are exchanged for palm-oil, ivory, skins and other merchandise. It is by no means an uncommon sight to see a swarthy savage dressed in the uniform of a London policeman, and wearing the regulation helmet of the force.

o o o

When Chinese parents arrive at about the age of fifty-five their affectionate sons and daughters club together and give them each a coffin, and wish them many happy returns of the day. When death comes these receptacles are used for the purpose for which they were intended. Coffins are to be seen in many houses in China, some of them being utilized as wardrobes.

The remains of Jesse Amos Baker, better known as "Big Billy Bonno," said to be the heaviest man in the world, were interred recently at Preston Cemetery, England. Baker, who was a native of the United States, weighed 616 lbs.

His waist measurement was 73 inches, chest 69 inches, and neck 27 inches. The coffin was 7 feet long and 4 feet wide, and it took fourteen men to lower it into the grave.

Pike County, says a Kansas newspaper, glories in the distinction of having the most luxuriant crop of whiskers in the United States. The crop adorns the fertile chin of Vol Tapley, a farmer, and is more than 11 feet in length. When Tapley wants to exhibit his hirsute appendage in all its glory he takes it from his vest, where he commonly keeps it, attaches the loose end of it to the hinge of a door, and then backs off until it comes taut.

Some may be interested in knowing that African elephants cost from $6,000 to $7,000; an Indian elephant about $5,000. Giraffes are worth about the same price as African elephants, on account of their scarcity. A fine hippopotamus may be purchased for $3,000, an African lion for $1,000 to $1,500 and a lioness for $800 and $900. Bengal tigers are worth from $800 to $900, and camels from $400 to $500 apiece.

One of the marine curiosities fished some time ago from the bottom of the Indian Ocean, was a mammoth sea crab which continually emitted a bright white light, similar to that seen in the spasmodic flashes of phosphorescent luminosity emitted by the common glow worm. The crab was captured in the day time and placed in a large tank containing specimens of fish, nothing peculiar except its immense size being noticeable in the broad glare of the tropical sun. At night however, when all was pitchy darkness, the crab lit up the tank so that the other creatures in it could be plainly seen.

The women who delight in wearing jewels are now informed that in order to get the best effects from stones, they must wear only those that match their eyes. The girl with hazel orbs that have a tint of yellow is devoting herself exclusively to yellow topazes and emeralds.

The blue-eyed women are buying turquoise. Solitaire diamonds are only allowed to the black-eyed damsels, while brown, rose and yellow-tinted brilliants are all the especial property of the matron whose glance is "deep and dark as midnight." To brown-eyed women red gems are recommended as being most suitable.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Obituary.

Mrs. Elizabeth King, wife of H. H. King, died at their home at Shady Grove, Oct. 30, 1904, aged sixty-five years and six days. Sister King professed the Christian faith in her twenty-fifth year, and thirteen years later she united with the Baptist church at Shady Grove, in which sacred relation she remained a faithful and appreciated standard bearer with her brethren and sisters to the end of her earthly days.

She had been in a delicate state of health for about two years and being further reduced by an attack of pneumonia, and after all that her physician and loving friends could do for her comfort and recovery, and after the acute stage of pneumonia had been passed, she died of heart failure.

Sister King leaves a husband, one sister, one son and two daughters to mourn their loss, and though they are grief-stricken and heart-broken their sorrows are very much softened by the cheering hope that they shall meet wife, sister, mother beyond the turbid tides of the Jordan of death, where there are no deaths, graves, nor tolling bells.

To her dear weeping ones we would say that the vacated tomb of Jesus is a standing consoling pledge to them all that the dismal tomb shall not prove an eternal prison to hold forever the precious form deposited there, for Jesus burst the bars of death and triumphed o'er the grave.

Then remember your loved one has fallen asleep in Him and she shall awake in the happy likeness of her risen Lord and join the heavenly choir in making the vaulted arches resonant with sweetest echoes of more than angelic song in hymns of perfect praises to God our Redeemer. Then let us all emulate her life, and while precious memory is all that remains of her here, let us cherish this as if it were the deposit of an angel until we meet her on the "other bright shore."

After appropriate divine service at the Shady Grove Cemetery her mortal remains were laid to rest on Nov. 1st. Many friends showed their love and respect for the deceased by their presence and assistance on this occasion.

Tell her friend and brother in the hope of the resurrection,

F. L. Arwood.

BOB TAYLOR

TURNED DOWN IN LOUISVILLE BECAUSE OF MARRIAGE RECORD.

The Louisville Times says: Because they disapprove of his matrimonial record, the members of the McFerran Memorial Baptist church declined to negotiate with former Gov. Bob Taylor, who, through his agents, made a proposition to lecture in Louisville. The proposition was received by the Rev. Dr. William Wistar Hamilton, pastor of the church. The lecturer offered to appear for a guarantee of $250 or for 70 per cent. of receipts. Dr. Hamilton turned the matter over to the Young Ladies' Missionary Society Sunday morning, and the society held a meeting at the conclusion of the morning services. The meeting was brief, resulting in a prompt refusal to contract for a lecture. "We need the money and this would be an easy way to get it, but we don't approve of Gov. Taylor's marriage record and we will not accept his offer," was the unanimous expression of the young ladies.

Gov. Taylor was divorced a short time ago and after a couple of weeks of "single blessedness" took to himself another wife. The developments were too rapid, in the opinion of many orthodox church people.

COLLEGE BURNED

LEADING COLORED COLLEGE IN TENNESSEE IS DESTROYED.

Lane college, at Jackson, Tenn., one of the leading colored educational institutions of the State, burned last week. The fire started in the boarding dormitory and, being beyond water connections, it was impossible to save the main building, a large brick structure valued at $15,000. The college was founded through the efforts of Bishop Isaac Lane, of the Colored Methodist church, and is under the auspices of that denomination. It has about 200 students. The insurance on the main building is $7,000, and on the dormitory the amount is unknown.

SUNFLOWER PHILOSOPHY.

Somewhy no one expects much from a very fat person.

A dollar is a large amount to pay for bread, but is mighty insignificant in a poker game.

When some people haven't any great trouble they smile as much as to say, "How brave I am."

All most people seem to live for is to make each other trouble. It is a rare man who does not enjoy annoying his neighbor. And if he is called to account for it he will willingly engage in a fight that may last him the rest of his life.

An Atchison girl of 15 giggles a great deal, and the doctor says it is nervousness. We never went to a medical school and cut people up, and don't know a thighbone from a thumbscrew, but we know what makes a girl of 15 giggle—youthfulness. To prove it, watch and see how she gets over it.

A girl puts on a big hat and then drapes from the rear end of it a veil big enough to cover a table. This is bad enough, but with the veil she also puts on the expression of a senorita. Sometimes she pulls the end of the veil around her face to increase the likeness. Some one should tell her the truth. We can't.

NOT A SICK DAY SINCE.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Blenniun, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility. This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c, ad. R. F. Haynes', Druggist.

SLURGIS TO HAVE ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

The fact that Slurgis is soon to have electric lights is now assured. J. L. Frankel has bought a twenty-year franchise from the city and is making preparations to install the plant at once.

CANNOT SERVE

COURT OF APPEALS DECIDES AGAINST MAGISTRATES AS ROAD SUPERVISORS.

In reversing judgment of the Boyd circuit court in the case of Boyd county vs. Jack Arthur and others, magistrates of the county, the court of appeals recently construed the law authorizing the appointing of supervisors of roads in counties and the expenditure of public money for that purpose. It holds that members of the fiscal court cannot serve as road supervisors and cannot vote money to themselves for such work; that it has no authority to appoint more than one supervisor for the county; that it has no authority to allow its members any other compensation than that fixed by law, and that where the county attorney refuses for any reason to prosecute an appeal to the circuit court or the court of appeals the county judge of the county is authorized to prosecute it. The opinion of the court was delivered by Judge Holson.

The questions were presented to the court through the making of an order by the fiscal court of Boyd county appropriating to four magistrates the sum of $1,400 to be spent "according to the directions of each magistrate;" and of another order allowing these magistrates $3 per day each for "supervising and directing" the work in their respective districts in constructing and maintaining county roads. The county judge opposed the appropriation of the money, and instituted suit to restrain the court from so using the money. Court of Appeals says that so much of the order "appropriating $1,400 is unobjectionable, but in so far as the orders direct that the money shall be spent according to the direction of each magistrate they are void.

Blame

NO ONE BUT YOURSELF IF YOU DON'T GET WELL WHEN SICK.

All we can do is give advice. Of course that's easy.

But our advice is really worth a hill more to you than the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you.

We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

You are the doctor.

"My son Bert, when in his 15th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy, so serious that we were compelled to send him out of school. After several physicians had failed to relieve him, we gave Dr. Miles' Nervine trial. Ten months treatment with Nervine and Liver Mills restored our boy to perfect health." —MR. JOHN B. WILSON, Deputy City Clerk, Dallas, Tex.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

President Roosevelt Acknowledges
Debt of American People.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES: A PROCLAMATION

It has pleased Almighty God to bring the American people in safety and honor through another year, and, in accordance with the long, unbroken custom handed down to us by our forefathers, the time has up come when a special day shall be set apart in which to thank Him who holds all nations in the hollow of His hand for the mercies thus vouchsafed to us. During the century and a quarter of our national life, we as a people have been blessed beyond all others, and for this we owe humble and heartfelt thanks to the author of all blessings. The year that has closed has been one of peace within our own borders, as well as between us and all other nations. The harvests have been abundant, and those who work, whether with hand or brain, are prospering greatly. Reward has waited upon honest effort. We have been enabled to do our duty to ourselves and to others. Never has there been a time when religious and charitable effort has been more evident. Much has been given to us and much will be expected from us. We speak of what has been done by this nation in its prosperity, of boastfulness or vainglory, but with full and reverent realization that our strength is nothing unless we are helped from above. Hitherto we have been given the earnest strength to do the tasks allotted to us as they severally arise. We are thankful for all that has been done for us in the past and we pray that in the future we may be strengthened in the unending struggle to do our duty fearlessly and honestly, with charity and good will, with respect for ourselves and with love toward our fellowmen.

In the great Republic the effort to combine national strength with personal freedom is being tried on a scale more gigantic than ever before in the world's history. Our success will mean much, not only for ourselves, but for the future of all mankind, and every man or woman in our land should feel the grave responsibility resting upon him or her, for in the last analysis this success must depend upon the high average of our individual citizenship, upon the way in which each of us does his duty by himself and his neighbor.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 24th of this November, to be observed as a day of festival and thanksgiving by all the people of the United States at home or abroad, and do recommend that on that day they cease from their ordinary occupations and gather in their several places of worship or in their homes, devoutly to give thanks to Almighty God for the benefits He has conferred upon us as individuals and as a nation, and to beseech Him that in the future His divine favor may be continued to us.

I witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 1st day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1901, and of the independence of the United States the 12th. By the President,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
John Hay, Secretary of State.

Obituary.

Ruth, the little daughter of Bob and Laura Dollins, was born March 15th, 1903, and died Oct. 21st, 1904.

She was a bright little girl on earth but is far brighter in heaven. Parents, weep not for your darling for she is at rest. While there is one vacant chair at your fireside, there is one more angel in heaven. As the poet said, "In the sweet by and by, we shall meet on that Beautiful Shore," and by the grace of God we expect to meet little Ruth over there.

She has quit the walks of men but she has gone to bask in the ethereal fields of glory. We shed the tear of sorrow but it gleans with the radiant rays of joy and hope, because we know that her departure is only entrance into eternal life.

Dear parents, I know that you are lonely while the dead are not forgotten, but the living need your smiles. You have loved ones yet and, in accordance with the long, unbroken custom handed down to us by our forefathers, the time has up come when a special day shall be set apart in which to thank Him who holds all nations in the hollow of His hand for the mercies thus vouchsafed to us. During the century and a quarter of our national life, we as a people have been blessed beyond all others, and for this we owe humble and heartfelt thanks to the author of all blessings. SOME ODD REASONS

For Choosing Wives—Why Some Men Have Married.

A certain lady, the unfortunate possessor of a cork leg, was wooed and won. One day soon after the marriage she had the curiosity, during her husband's temporary absence, to open a wardrobe that he had always kept religiously fastened and found therein, to her horror, two wooden legs, each labelled with the name of a lady, carefully stowed away on one of the shelves. Aghast with fear she hastened to the house of some mutual acquaintances, to whom she confided her gruesome discovery, only to be assured that although the false limbs were those of her husband's former wives, there was no cause for alarm. Her husband, the friends explained, had originally wedded a one-legged lady, and so happy had been the marriage that on her death he had vowed never to mate again save with a wife similarly situated. A short while afterwards he met a lady whom as she fulfilled the requisite stipulation, he courted and won. His second marriage which turned out even more felicitous than his first venture, had caused him, on his beloved partner's decease, to renew his former vow, the outcome of which had resulted in his present happy union. This explanation calmed the wife's fear and she returned home a happy woman.

A poetically-minded literary man hailing from North Dakota, not long since married his hindrance, who keeps a small hotel in the Latin quarter of Paris. This young man, who for eleven years had paid not a single sou for board or lodging, was at length taken severely to task by his long-suffering hostess who threatened summary ejection. Such a cold prospect was little to his liking, so he proposed to cancel his bill by marriage. The lady was willing and the twain were made one.

Weight was taken into consideration in the wooing of Miss Phoebe, a fat and fair damsel of Huntington, Connecticut, whose father promised to present any eligible youth who should be willing to take her for wife five dollars for her every pound of avoidips. Upon ascertaining that the lady's weight was four hundred pounds, a Mr. Haring promptly closed with the offer and shortly afterwards led his starveling bride to the altar.

Herbert Spencer, in "An Autobiography," tells of a gentleman who, having adopted a boy with a view to educating him after a system of his own, found that he had underestimated the magnitude of the undertaking. He therefore cast about for a wife, whom he gave clearly to understand that his principal reason for marriage was to secure a fit person to rear the boy.

A gentleman residing in one of the southern suburbs of London, who is an ardent devotee of philyately, met some while since a fellow collector in a lady, whose album contained certain rare specimens he much coveted. To obtain them he suggested exchange, purchase—or even an offer of his hand. It was accepted, and the lady and her spouse passed into his possession.

John Henry Maedler, the eccentric owner who died at Hanover, England, in 1874, whose pet study was the moon, encountered a fellow-selenologist in the person of the Frau Witte, the wife of a State Councilor who owned a wonderful model of his favorite luminary, which she herself had fashioned out of wax. To gain possession of this globe was Maedler's sole aim, and as the worthy councilor being still alive—he could not espouse the lady, he paid court to her daughter, Minna, to whom, in the natural course of events, the coveted model would descend. All turned out to his satisfaction. He married the daughter and the marvellous globe came into his keeping.

A rich Yorkshireman who for some years had been pestered by the importunate assiduities of a horde of poor relations, and failing to keep them at a distance he, as a last resort, took to himself for wife an acrimonious spinster, whose venomous speech and uncertain temper had the desired effect of clearing his house of unwelcomed legacy-hunters.

Cooking and Cooking Schools.

The School Board of Chicago is conducting seven free public kitchens, and it is said that more than a thousand women are learning to cook in these schools. Thirty nationalities are represented among the pupils, China among them. Ten Chinese are taking lessons. Factory girls contemplating matrimony are learning how to cook and being trained how to be housewives. Housewives are learning how to cook that they may know how to economize without causing the family table to suffer.

The aim of the teacher is to train the students to manage simple homes in a capable manner. And while this army of working women and housewives is working, another army is sewing. The course in sewing includes dressmaking and millinery, hand sewing, the use and care of the sewing machine, and exercises in pattern-making, fitting and designing.

In our judgment the cooking school is a most valuable adjunct to a system of public education. It has been tested, and has proved its efficiency in the Fort Worth high schools.

It would appear that the art of cooking had fallen into bad ways in Texas, and common experience proves that other States are little if any better off than we are. Throughout the South, which used to be famous for its culinary excellence, the capable cook is becoming quite rare.

In ante-bellum times the daughters of the aristocracy were taught all branches of household economy because it was deemed essential to train the girl to become the mistress of a household. She in turn taught her house slaves to capably perform domestic duties.

But the Southern ante-bellum cook has long since disappeared. Wealthy people no longer regard it necessary to teach their daughters household economy. The art of cooking has been displaced by the more polite arts. A good negro cook is rare indeed, and the servants we get from Europe are far short of our desires.

What has become of the old-fashioned Southern "Isnt'is?"

What has become of the dear old

cornpone, the hoe cake, egg bread, and numerous delicacies which were the delight of all who tasted them in the good old days?

No girl is too rich to know how to cook and sew. Such compliments ought to be highly regarded rather than be viewed with contemptuous indifference. A household without a well conducted kitchen is in a bad way to begin with.

As between a luxuriously equipped drawing room and an inefficient cooking department, the latter has the most substantial worth. There is no reason why a home should not contain both, but the queen of the household should be able to reign in both. A man with a good kitchen behind him will be good-natured, faithful and patriotic—a good all-around citizen. A soggy basement or a poorly cooked steak breeds anxiety, despair and insanity.—Houston Post.

Lesson in the International Series for November 13, 1904—"Joshua Repairs the Temple."

(Prepared by the "Highway and By-way" Preacher.)

(Copyright, 1904, by J. M. Edson.)

LESSON TEXT.—2 Kings 12:4-15; memory verse, 9-12. Read all of chapter, and the parallel account in 2 Chronicles 24.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"We will not forsake the house of our God."—Neh. 10:39.

TIME.—The work of repairing the temple covered a period of about 23 years.

REIGN.—The house of God was begun early in Josiah's reign, and he reigned 40 years—588-568 B. C.

PLACE.—Jerusalem.

The Lesson Outline.

THEME:—Repairing the Lord's Temples.

1. A Temple to Be Repaired.—vs. 4-5.

(1) The Repairs Ordered.—vs. 4, 5.

(2) The Work Neglected.—v. 6.

(3) Failure Apparent.—vs. 7, 8.

(4) A Temple Repaired—vs. 9-15.

(5) Planning the Work and Working the Plan.—vs. 9, 10.

(6) Workmen Engaged.—vs. 11, 12.

(7) The Work Completed.—vs. 13, 14.

(8) Faithful Dealing.—v. 15.

Comparing Scripture with Scripture.

1. A Temple to Be Repaired.—Under the six years' reign of Athaliah the priests of Baal had despoiled the temple and made breaches in its walls.

In such condition it was unsightly and dishonoring to God. There is another temple that needs repairing. The temple of the body, 1 Cor. 3:16-17. Ah, how sin has made breaches in the walls and despoiled it of its treasure and destroyed its beauty. Read some of the ugly conditions found in the temple of the body as enumerated in Gal. 5:19-21.

The condition of the temple is known. There are some marks of the despoiler upon our lives. Man is conscious of the fact of sin in himself and heart. And to the extent that sin is there, to that extent is the body temple defiled.

(1) The Repairs Ordered, vs. 4, 5.—"Let the priests repair the breaches of the house, wheresoever any breach shall be found." This was the order of the king to those in charge of the temple and he designated how they were to obtain the needed money to carry on the work, v. 4. God's command to the keepers of this temple of the body is: "Be ye holy, for I am holy." Lev. 11:44; 19:2; 1 Pet. 1:15, 16; Matt. 5:14.

The king had a right to order the temple repaired, nay, it was his duty to do so.

God as the Creator and Ruler of man has a right, nay, he must demand that the temple scarred and marred by sin be repaired.

(2) The Work Neglected, v. 6.—"Silly—the priests had not repaired the breaches in the house." And this after 23 years. Day after day, week after week, month after month, year after year roiled by and still nothing was done.
